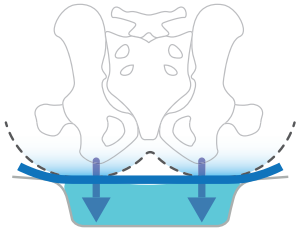
PRECISION COMFORT

The PC Deep cushion features a specialized silicone gel insert that molds to the user's ischial tuberosities and coccyx, optimizing pressure redistribution. Its deep-well design with ergonomic contours prevent sacral sitting and enhances stability.

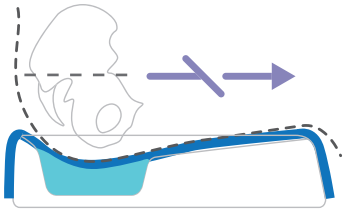
A removable gel overlay sits on top of the base foam delivers immersive comfort.

The moisture-wicking outer cover regulates humidity to maintain skin integrity and minimize pressure injury risk.

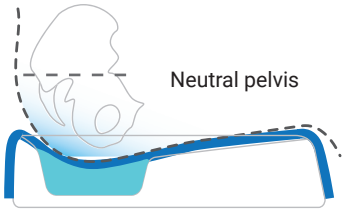
Key Features / Clinical Justification



Gel insert in the pelvic well decreases risks of pressure injury on coccyx and sacrum



High immersion prevents forward migration of the pelvis



Neutral pelvis and even weight distribution decrease overall risks of pressure injuries
